STATEMENT BY LITTAUER.

New York Congressman Gives His Version of Glove Contract Deal.

New York, Aug. 5.—Congressman Littauer has made a statement in which he says:

"I am, of course, surprised and disappointed at the decision of the secretary of war that they may expect even a prima facie case of violation of statute. The decision only creates an inquiry as to whether a technical violation of law has been committed and removes from the case entirely any suggestion of dishonesty or dishonorable action on my part and of any improper use of my influence as a congressman in regard to any glove contracts."

"I can ask no more sweeping and complete vindication of my honor and business integrity than the final findings of the secretary."

"As to the matter which has been referred to the attorney general I am at a loss to understand how any question even of a most refined technical nature can exist as to the perfect propriety and legality of the contract of Dec. 7, 1898. The uncontradicted evidence concerning this contract develops these facts."

Mr. Littauer then says that Mr. Lyon was a general contractor to the war department and that when Lyon obtained a contract for 3,000 muskrat gaiters, Littauer Bros. supplied them to him at $1.54 per pair and lost money. A subsequent contract for 20,000 similar gloves Littauer Bros. finally agreed to furnish for $1.65 per pair and agreed to divide the difference if the gloves could be manufactured for less than $1.65 per pair. The difference on the contract for 20,000 gloves was $3,570.71. Lyons receiving a rebate of $1,763.22. Criminal intent or conspiracy are denied.

FIRE TURKISH VILLAGES.

Bulgarians Also Destroy Government Buildings With Bombs.

Constantinople, Aug. 5.—Hilmi Pacha reports that a band of 150 Bulgarians fired the Turkish villages of Dondjle and Ramna, in the Monastir district, destroyed a government building and the telegraph office in the village of Korshovo with bombs and burned granaries belonging to Turks and Greeks in the villages through which they passed.

Gibbons Opposed Rampolla.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Rome asserts that Cardinal Gibbons played the chief part in frustrating the election of Cardinal Rampolla.

SUCCEEDS POPE LEO

CARDINAL SARTO IS ELECTED HEAD OF THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH.

ASSUMES NAME OF PIUS X

BELIEVED THAT NEW PONTIFF WILL FOLLOW POLICY OF HIS PREDECESSOR.

CORONATION DATE NOT SET

BUT IT IS PROBABLE THAT THE CEREMONY WILL OCCUR ON SUNDAY NEXT.

Rome, Aug. 5.—The conclave, after being in session for four days, Tuesday elected Giuseppe Sarto, patriarch of Venice, as pope to succeed Leo XIII, and he now reigns at the vatican and over the Catholic world as Pius X. Last night all Rome was illuminated in his honor.

His election and the assumption of his holy office were marked by a striking demonstration and impressive ceremonies at the vatican which only ended last evening. Today the new pope, clad in his full pontifical robes and with all the ritualistic ceremony, will receive the members of the diplomatic corps, the cardinals and the bishops, who will then offer their official homage, this notwithstanding the fact that twice on Tuesday the cardinals and many high officials of the vatican went through a similar ceremony.

Date of Coronation Not Decided.

The date upon which the coronation of Pius X will occur has not yet been decided, but the impression prevails that it will occur Aug. 9.

Although the election was over at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning and was announced to the world forty-five minutes later by the appearance of the new pope at the window of St. Peter's, the conclave was not formally dissolved until 5:30 Tuesday afternoon. The cardinals then returned to their various apartments in Rome, with the exception of Cardinals Rampolla and Oreglia, who temporarily retain their official suites in the vatican, and Cardinal Herrero y Esynosa, who is too ill to be moved for several days. It was to the sick cardinal that the new pope paid his first visit after being formally proclaimed pontiff.

The cardinals will remain in Rome for today's ceremonies and should the coronation be fixed for next Sunday, they are not likely to return to their respective homes until after that ceremony.

Only One Cardinal Is Ill.

With the exception of the Spanish cardinal, Herrero, all the others are now in fairly good health.

The election of the patriarch of Venice Tuesday morning was unanimous. After Monday's ballots it was a foregone conclusion that he was the only candidate sufficiently acceptable to all to secure the necessary two-thirds, which the laws of the church require. One of the cardinals said to the representative of the Associated Press last night that he believed Pius X would follow the broad lines of Leo's policy, although not likely to accentuate it. This voice the general feeling here, which is one of satisfaction.

The new pontiff is a man of simple origin and although not a very prominent candidate, he had been frequently mentioned as one of the many cardinals who might be taken up as a compromise. In several respects he notably in his reputation for culture and piety. Having been associated with no factions, this fact alone won much favor from foreign cardinals who were without an especial candidate. Pius X was humorously described as "a country mouse who could not possibly find his way about Rome."

Venetians who know the new pope well say that he will soon be as much beloved as pontiff as he was as the beloved patriarch of the poor of the Adriatic. In appearance, Pius X is a very handsome man. He has a fine, erect figure, despite his sixty-eight years, his face, greatly resembling that of the late Phillips Brooks, the eminent Boston divine.

When he pronounced his first benediction Tuesday at St. Peter's his voice rang out with splendid resonance. In every way he showed beyond a doubt that he has

Dignity and Personality

In keeping with the best traditions associated with the famous pontiffs who for centuries have ruled the vatican.

All members of the sacred college declared that they are very well satisfied with the election of Cardinal Sarto, but the anti-Rampolla party consider it as their special victory. When the first ballot was taken it showed that the sacred college was divided into two groups, the stronger one for Rampolla and another not quite so strong for Serafino Vannutelli. The other votes were scattered, but included four for Sarto.

On the subsequent ballots, while the two principal parties were losing ground, Sarto gradually gained, drawing strength from both sides, as well as from the neutrals, until the ballot on Monday afternoon, when his vote had increased to thirty-seven, within six of the necessary two-thirds.

Cardinal Sarto Overcome.

When the result of this ballot was announced in the conclave, Cardinal Sarto was so overcome with emotion and so touched by the unlooked for confidence reposed in him that he could no longer control his feelings, and to the surprise of all he broke down, declaring that such responsibility and honor were not for him and that he must refuse if offered. Tears rolled down his cheeks and he seemed firm in his determination to refuse the dignity. He was so palpably sincere that consternation reigned in the conclave and the cardinals spent the whole evening and far into the night in convincing him that his election was the will of Providence, and that he must accept.

Several times he almost fainted and had to be revived by the use of salts. He seemed happy, but broken down, even after all the other candidates had retired, and on the final ballot he looked a statue of resignation. Cardinal Casetta, as scrutineer, was reading out the vote. When forty-two votes had been recorded for the patriarch of Venice, the scrutineer arose, lifted his red zucchetto, saying:

"Habemus Pontificem."

But from many sides cardinals cried out, "Continue." As the vote approached fifty, however, the cardinals, as of one accord, surrounded the new pontiff and, according to tradition, demanded to know if he would accept the pontificate.

Cardinal Sarto's lips trembled so that he could hardly articulate, but after a visible effort he said:

"If this cup cannot pass from me," there he paused, but the cardinals around him insisted that it was necessary for him to answer "yes" or "no."

Thereupon he replied firmly: "I accept."

Cardinal Gibbons, speaking to a representative of the Associated Press, said that the election of Cardinal Sarto had produced the best impression in the entire sacred college, being a man of much piety, tact and culture, and that he was best fitted to be at the present time. Cardinal Gibbons hopes that the coronation of Pius X will take place soon in order that the foreign cardinals may be able to assist. Others think that the coronation may be postponed for three months to a more propitious time.

There is much speculation regarding the political attitude of the new pope, inasmuch as he has not participated in the general affairs of the church during his career. The general opinion, however, is that he will make no change in the relations between the vatican and the quai, except perhaps to render them more courteous, inasmuch as he enjoys the personal acquaintance with the king and members of the royal family. Queen Margherita considers him almost a friend.

To Ameliorate Relations With France.

One of his first steps certainly will be to ameliorate the relations of the vatican and France and try to prevent a similar struggle against the congregations in Spain.

He is not credited with being particularly favorable to Austria, as he still remembers how much his fatherland suffered under the domination of that country.

Pius X admires the progress of Catholicism in America and considers the United States a most fertile field for religion.

The cardinals mentioned as likely to be appointed secretary of state are Ferrata, prefect of the congregation of bishops; Cavagnis and Vincenzo Vannutelli, bishop of Palestina.

The new pope is one of eight children, two sons and six daughters. One of his sisters is a dressmaker, another is married to a sacristan and peddler, a third married a wine shop keeper and the others are unmarried. The new pope is the seventh who has come from the region of Venice, among whom was Benedict XII, who also came from Treviso, and who, by a strange coincidence, was elected pope exactly 599 years ago Tuesday.

ARGUMENTS FOR NEW TRIAL.

Defense Files Affidavits in the Case of A. A. Ames.

Minneapolis, Aug. 5.—The arguments for a new trial of the case of A. A. Ames were heard before Judge Elliot yesterday. The defense submitted a large number of affidavits and quoted at great length from innumerable authorities in an effort to convince the court that Ames should be granted a new trial.

The affidavits put in by the defense will not be replied to in detail by the state but one general affidavit will be put in covering them all. The defense claims that its affidavits are in the nature of new evidence, as they deal with matters that could not be presented at the trial.

FOUR PERSONS SHOT

ED CLARK OPENS FIRE ON A MOTORMAN WITHOUT CAUSE AT MINNEAPOLIS.

ASSAILANT FINALLY CAUGHT

WOUNDS AN OFFICER AND A CITIZEN BEFORE HE IS FORCED TO SURRENDER.

Minneapolis, Aug. 5.—Four persons were seriously wounded last night and eleven shots fired, the work of a crazed man, thirsting for blood. Ed Clark, the man who started the shooting, lies in a hospital in a dangerous condition from a bullet at the hands of Patrolman McLaughlin, after Clark had shot Motorman Nelson without provocation, and a bystander named James W. Williams, a colored man, who pursued him, and Lieutenant George Revier of Central police station, as he was trying to arrest him. Clark absolutely refuses to speak of his actions and declares he does not remember firing a shot.

No cause for the shooting is known. Nelson claims to have never before seen his assailant, and when questioned at the city hospital, Clark refused to discuss the case.

A few minutes before 11 o'clock, Nelson, who is a motorman on a Fourth avenue car, pulled up to the street railway coop at Hennepin avenue and Third street. He left his car to report its arrival to the checker, whose office is in the coop. Just as he was about to step from the street to the sidewalk Clark opened fire without a moment's warning. The first bullet struck Nelson in the left arm. He dodged behind the coop, shouting for help. Clark followed closely after him, firing the revolver four times in quick succession. The last shot at the motorman entered Nelson's right cheek.

Attracted a Large Crowd.

When the shooting began the streets were practically deserted, as it was raining in torrents when Clark opened fire. But the noise of the revolver soon attracted a large crowd, and in a moment or two twenty or thirty persons had gathered about the corner, where the assault on Nelson had taken place.

Patrolman John Larson rushed to the scene of the shooting, being among the first arrivals. When Clark saw the policeman, he dashed from the crowd. Larson gave chase and with several citizens followed the bold assassin as he fled down Washington avenue. At lockup alley, he turned north. Larson blew his whistle for aid, and the entire detail at Central station turned out to join in the chase.

Lieutenant Revier then took charge of the pursuit, and leading the policeman and other pursuers followed closely behind the fugitive. Every moment brought him nearer to the feeling man, Clark, seeing that capture was inevitable, turned upon the officers, and aiming his gun carefully fired at Revier. The aim was true, and the policeman fell wounded in the right arm.

For a moment the chase was delayed for the other policemen and citizens stopped to examine the extent of Revier's injuries. He ordered them to proceed, and trying a handkerchief about his arm continued the chase.

Clark Refused to Halt.

But the moment's delay gave Clark a new start, and for a while it looked as if he were about to escape. However the noise of the shooting attracted the attention of Policeman McLaughlin. He saw a man run into an alley near the union station. He followed calling for the fugitive to stop. But the man refused to heed the warning. McLaughlin opened fire. Clark returned the volley.

In the shooting which followed James Williams, a negro, got in range of the flying lead and was laid low. When the smoke cleared away, Clark was found lying wounded at the entrance to the alley. He and Williams were taken to the police station where surgeons dressed their wounds, who had been summoned to care for Lieutenant Revier.

Lieutenant Revier's injuries were not serious, and he and Williams were attended to at the central police station. Clark's wounds were found to be dangerous, and after a hurried examination at the police station, he was taken to the city hospital.

When searched, a pay check was found in Clark's clothes, payable to William Bodie, of Eau Claire. The Eau Claire police have been asked to look up the man's record.

Early this morning all the victims of the shooting affray were resting easily, and it is said none will die.

FOUR PERSONS BADLY HURT.

Herd of Cattle Causes Trains to Collide in Montana.

Havre, Mont., Aug. 5.—While waiting for a herd of cattle to clear the track, the Montana Central southbound passenger train was overtaken by the "Flyer" on a curve a few miles west of here Tuesday afternoon. The Pullman buffet car was wrecked, the engine of the "Flyer" badly damaged and four persons badly hurt. They are William Turner and George Washington, waiters; William De Mossey, news agent; a woman passenger, name unknown. The passengers on the "Flyer" were all badly shaken up.

ACREEMENT ISSUED.

Conditions Governing Proposed British Mail Vessel Subsidies.

London, Aug. 5.—The agreement between the admiralty, the board of trade, the postmaster general and the Cunard Steamship company, dated July 30, was issued in a parliamentary paper last evening. Accompanying the agreement is the draft of a trust deed, securing the debenture stock of which the government's advance of $13,000,000 for building the two new steamships is made.

The new mail carrying agreement substitutes for payments by weight, a fixed annual payment of $340,000 during the life of the contract, which is for twenty years, dating from the first sailing of the second of the new steamships. It provides that the mails shall be carried more speedily than at present.

The company will be bound to utilize the best steamships for the mail service and the agreement stipulates for deductions from the subsidy in the event of the company failing to carry out the terms of the contract.

All the company's steamships between Liverpool, New York, Boston, the Mediterranean ports and Havre, including the new steamships, which will have a speed of 24 to 25 knots, will be at the disposal of the admiralty for hire or purchase in the event of war.

Under the British Flag.

The vessels must be maintained under the British flag and managed without undue increase in freight charges or undue preference against British subjects. The masters, officers and engineers of all the vessels must always be British subjects and the same condition applies to at least three-fourths of the crew.

The company is not allowed to sell any vessel whose speed is 17 knots and upward without the consent of the government, which will indicate the plans for the new vessels with a view to their conversion into armed cruisers. The company must maintain the gun mountings, etc., ready for use.

For these concessions the government agrees to subsidize the new vessels at $275,000 per year each.

The loan of $13,000,000, which will bear interest at 2½ per cent, is to be repaid in twenty annual installments, will rank as the first charge on the whole Cunard fleet and will be secured by the debentures. The agreement provides for a reduction in the subsidy for the new steamships in the case of their failure to attain a minimum speed of 23½ knots.

The revised articles of the Cunard company, which are included in the parliamentary paper, contain the provisions previously cabled, stringently excluding foreigners from holding shares in the company directly or in trust.

Shamrock III Defeats Her Trial Horse Handily.

Atlantic Highlands, N. J., Aug. 5.—Captain Wringe of Shamrock III and Captain Bevels of Shamrock I got into a hot contest in Tuesday's race of the two boats off Scotland lighthouse and the mastery fashion in which the clever skippers handled the big racers delighted Sir Thomas Lipton and Captain McKinsley of the Teutonic and Captain Bertram F. Hays of the Arabia, his guests, as well as the Erin's company.

After seven tacks the Shamrock I succeeded in getting out of the new boat's lee, but could not hold her position, and in a rattling breeze, the new cup hunter beat her out by 7 minutes, 55 seconds.

TRAILING THE CONVICTS.

Possess After Folsom Outlaws With Bloodhounds.

Placerville, Cal., Aug. 5.—Two posses with bloodhounds are now on the trail of the escaped Folsom convicts, and, as it is believed that the outlaws are footsore and weary, it is thought that they will soon be overtaken, and a desperate battle is hourly expected.

MISS IDA M. SNYDER,

Treasurer of the Brooklyn East End Art Club.

Menstrual irregularities are generally the beginning of a woman's troubles. With the vitality at a low ebb, the blood weakened, the digestion deranged, she goes about pale-faced, hollow-eyed and haggard, a pitiable contrast to the blooming health of her former self. But over 1,000,000 women have found to their health we would have more happy wives, mothers and daughters, and if they would use more intelligence in the matter of medicines, observing results, they would find that the doctors' prescriptions do not perform the many cures they are given credit for.

"In consulting with my druggist he advised McEliet's Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and so I took it and have every reason to thank him for a new life opened up to me with restored health, and it only took three months to cure me."

You may secure the same relief as Miss Snyder, if you take Wine of Cardui as she took it. Thedford's Black-Draught is the companion medicine of Wine of Cardui and it is a liver and bowel regulator which assists greatly in effecting a cure. If you take these medicines according to directions, the relief and cure is simple. Some cases are cured quickly and others take longer because the disease has run longer. Remember how Miss Snyder took Wine of Cardui and has health. The same medicines are offered you to-day.

Rome, Aug. 5.—The conclave, after being in session for four days, Tuesday elected Giuseppe Sarto, patriarch of Venice, as pope to succeed Leo XIII, and he now reigns at the vatican and over the Catholic world as Pius X. Last night all Rome was illuminated in his honor.

In keeping with the best traditions associated with the famous pontiffs who for centuries have ruled the vatican.

All members of the sacred college declared that they are very well satisfied with the election of Cardinal Sarto, but the anti-Rampolla party consider it as their special victory. When the first ballot was taken it showed that the sacred college was divided into two groups, the stronger one for Rampolla and another not quite so strong for Serafino Vannutelli. The other votes were scattered, but included four for Sarto.

On the subsequent ballots, while the two principal parties were losing ground, Sarto gradually gained, drawing strength from both sides, as well as from the neutrals, until the ballot on Monday afternoon, when his vote had increased to thirty-seven, within six of the necessary two-thirds.

When the result of this ballot was announced in the conclave, Cardinal Sarto was so overcome with emotion and so touched by the unlooked for confidence reposed in him that he could no longer control his feelings, and to the surprise of all he broke down, declaring that such responsibility and honor were not for him and that he must refuse if offered. Tears rolled down his cheeks and he seemed firm in his determination to refuse the dignity. He was so palpably sincere that consternation reigned in the conclave and the cardinals spent the whole evening and far into the night in convincing him that his election was the will of Providence, and that he must accept.

Cardinal Gibbons, speaking to a representative of the Associated Press, said that the election of Cardinal Sarto had produced the best impression in the entire sacred college, being a man of much piety, tact and culture, and that he was best fitted to be at the present time. Cardinal Gibbons hopes that the coronation of Pius X will take place soon in order that the foreign cardinals may be able to assist. Others think that the coronation may be postponed for three months to a more propitious time.

There is much speculation regarding the political attitude of the new pope, inasmuch as he has not participated in the general affairs of the church during his career. The general opinion, however, is that he will make no change in the relations between the vatican and the quinal, except perhaps to render them more courteous, inasmuch as he enjoys the personal acquaintance with the king and members of the royal family. Queen Margherita considers him almost a friend.

One of his first steps certainly will be to ameliorate the relations of the vatican and France and try to prevent a similar struggle against the congregations in Spain.

He is not credited with being particularly favorable to Austria, as he still remembers how much his fatherland suffered under the domination of that country.

Pius X admires the progress of Catholicism in America and considers the United States a most fertile field for religion.

The cardinals mentioned as likely to be appointed secretary of state are Ferrata, prefect of the congregation of bishops, Cavagna and Vincenzo Vannutelli, bishop of Palestina.

The new pope is one of eight children, two sons and six daughters. ARGUMENTS FOR NEW TRIAL.

Defense Files Affidavits in the Case of A. A. Ames.

Minneapolis, Aug. 5.—The arguments for a new trial of the case of A. A. Ames were heard before Judge Elliot yesterday. The defense submitted a large number of affidavits and quoted at great length from innumerable authorities in an effort to convince the court that Ames should be granted a new trial.

The affidavits put in by the defense will not be replied to in detail by the state, but one general affidavit will be put in covering them all. The defense claims that its affidavits are in the nature of new evidence, as they deal with matters that could not be presented at the trial.

FOUR PERSONS SHOT

ASSAILANT FINALLY CAUGHT

Minneapolis, Aug. 5.—Four persons were seriously wounded last night and eleven shots fired, the work of a crazed man, thirsting for blood. Ed Clark, the man who started the shooting, lies in a hospital in a dangerous condition from a bullet in the hands of Patrolman McLaughlin, after Clark had shot Motorman Nelson without provocation, and a bystander named James W. Williams, a colored man, who pursued him, and Lieutenant George Revier of Central police station, as he was trying to arrest him. Clark absolutely refuses to speak of his actions and declares he does not remember of firing a shot.

A few minutes before 11 o'clock, Nelson, who is a motorman on a Fourth avenue car, pulled up to the street railway car at Hennepin avenue and Third street. He left his car to report its arrival to the checker, whose office is in the coop. Just as he was about to step from the street to the sidewalk Clark opened fire without a moment's warning. The first bullet struck Nelson in the left arm. He dodged behind the coop, shouting for help. Clark followed closely after him, firing the revolver four times in quick succession. The last shot at the motorman entered Nelson's right cheek.

When the shooting began the streets were practically deserted, as it was raining in torrents when Clark opened fire. But the noise of the revolver soon attracted a large crowd, and in a moment or two twenty or thirty persons had gathered about the corner, where the assault on Nelson had taken place.

Patrolman John Larson rushed to the scene of the shooting, being among the first arrivals. When Clark saw the policeman, he dashed from the crowd. Larson gave chase and with several citizens followed the bold assassin as he fled down Washington avenue. At lockup alley, he turned north. Larson blew his whistle for aid and the entire detail at Central station turned out to join in the chase. Lieutenant Revier then took charge of the pursuit and leading the policeman and other pursuers followed closely behind the fugitive. Every moment brought him nearer to the fleeing man. Clark, seeing that capture was inevitable, turned upon the officers, and aiming his gun carefully fired at Revier. The aim was true, and the policeman fell wounded in the right arm.

For a moment the chase was delayed for the other policemen and citizens stopped to examine the extent of Revier's injuries. He ordered them to proceed, and trying a handkerchief about his arm continued the chase.

Clark Refused to Halt.

But the moment's delay gave Clark a new start, and for a while it looked as if he were about to escape. However the noise of the shooting attracted the attention of Policeman McLaughlin. He saw a man run into an alley near the union station. He followed calling for the fugitive to stop. But the man refused to heed the warning. McLaughlin opened fire. Clark returned the volley.

In the shooting which followed James Williams, a negro, got in range of the flying lead and was laid low. When the smoke cleared away, Clark was found lying wounded at the entrance to the alley. He and Williams were taken to the police station where surgeons dressed their wounds, who had been summoned to care for Lieutenant Revier.

Lieutenant Revier's injuries were not serious, and he and Williams were attended to at the central police station. Clark's wounds were found to be dangerous, and after a hurried examination at the police station, he was taken to the city hospital.

When searched, a pay check was found in Clark's clothes, payable to William Bodie, of Eau Claire. The Eau Claire police have been asked to look up the man's record.

Early this morning all the victims of the shooting affray were resting easily, and it is said none will die.

FOUR PERSONS BADLY HURT.

Herd of Cattle Causes Trains to Collide in Montana.

Haute, Mont., Aug. 5.—While waiting for a herd of cattle to clear the track, the Montana Central southbound passenger train was overtaken by the "Flyer" on a curve a few miles west of here Tuesday afternoon. The Pullman buffet car was wrecked, the engine of the "Flyer" badly damaged and four persons, badly hurt. They are William Turner and George Washington, waiters; William De Mosey, news agent; a woman passenger, name unknown. The passengers on the "Flyer" were all badly shaken up.

AGREEMENT ISSUED.

Conditions Governing Proposed British Mail Vessel Subsidies.

London, Aug. 5.—The agreement between the admiralty, the board of trade, the postmaster general and the Cunard Steamship company, dated July 30, was issued in a parliamentary paper last evening. Accompanying the agreement is the draft of a trust deed, securing the debenture stock of which the government's advance of $13,000,000 for building the two new steamships is made.

The new mail carrying agreement substitutes for payments by weight, a fixed annual payment of $340,000 during the life of the contract, which is for twenty years, dating from the first sailing of the second of the new steamships. It provides that the mails shall be carried more speedily than at present.

The company will be bound to utilize the best steamships for the mail service and the agreement stipulates for deductions from the subsidy in the event of the company failing to carry out the terms of the contract.

All the company's steamships between Liverpool, New York, Boston, the Mediterranean ports and Havre, including the new steamships, which will have a speed of 24 to 25 knots, will be at the disposal of the admiralty for hire or purchase in the event of war.

Under the British Flag.

The vessels must be maintained under the British flag and managed without undue increase in freight charges or undue preference against British subjects. The masters, officers and engineers of all the vessels must always be British subjects and the same condition applies to at least three-fourths of the crew.

The company is not allowed to sell any vessel whose speed is 17 knots and upward without the consent of the government, which will indicate the plans for the new vessels with a view to their conversion into armed cruisers. The company must maintain the gun mountings, etc., ready for use.

For these concessions the government agrees to subsidize the new vessels at $375,000 per year each. The loan of $13,000,000, which will bear interest at 2½ per cent, is to be repaid in twenty annual installments, will rank as the first charge on the whole Cunard fleet and will be secured by the debentures. The agreement provides for a reduction in the subsidy for the new steamships in the case of their failure to attain a minimum speed of 23½ knots.

The revised articles of the Cunard company, which are included in the parliamentary paper, contain the provisions previously cabled, stringently excluding foreigners from holding shares in the company directly or in trust.

IN A RATTLING BREEZE.

Shamrock III Defeats Her Trial Horse Handily.

Atlantic Highlands, N. J., Aug. 5.—Captain Wringe of Shamrock III and Captain Revier of Shamrock I got into a hot contest in Tuesday's race of the two boats off Scotland lightship and the mastery fashion in which the clever skippers handled the big racers delighted Sir Thomas Lipton and Captain McKinley of the Teutonic and Captain Bertram F. Hays of the Arabia, his guests, as well as the Erin's company.

After seven tacks the Shamrock I succeeded in getting out of the new boat's lee, but could not hold her position, and in a rattling breeze, the new cup hunter beat her out by 7 minutes, 55 seconds.

TRAILING THE CONVICTS.

Possess After Folsom Outlaws With Bloodhounds.

Placerville, Cal., Aug. 5.—Two noses with bloodhounds are now on the trail of the escaped Folsom convicts, and as it is believed that the outlaws are footsore and weary, it is thought that they will soon be overtaken, and a desperate battle is hourly expected.

COREY IS PRESIDENT

CHARLES M. SCHWAB RESIGNS AS HEAD OF THE STEEL CORPORATION.

NOT BEEN FAIRLY TREATED

CLAIMS NEWSPAPERS HAVE MISREPRESENTED REASONS FOR RETIREMENT.

New York, Aug. 5.—The resignation of Charles M. Schwab, as president of the United States Steel corporation was tendered and accepted at a meeting of the directors Tuesday. William E. Corey was unanimously elected his successor.

Mr. Schwab's resignation caused no surprise in financial circles, where it had for some time been foreshadowed. The new president was for years one of Andrew Carnegie's ablest lieutenants and is now president of the Carnegie Steel company, one of the subsidiary concerns of the United States Steel corporation. It is scarcely more than a month ago that Mr. Corey was made assistant to President Schwab, because of the latter's continued ill health.

Mr. Schwab attended Tuesday's meeting of the directors, coming to town. It was said, for that especial purpose. He appeared to be in good health and spirits and seemed rather glad to be relieved of the duties imposed on the chief executive of the "billion dollar" corporation. Before and after the day's meeting, Mr. Schwab conferred with J. P. Morgan. Mr. Schwab will continue as a director of the steel corporation and a member of its finance committee.

Immediately after the election of his successor, Mr. Schwab met the press representatives, to whom he made this informal statement:

Complaints of Unfair Treatment.

"I want to say that I think I have been treated very unfairly by the newspapers in regard to the reason for my retirement. A number of reasons, including this American shipbuilding matter, have been given for it, but none of them are true. As a matter of fact, the shipbuilding question has never been a subject of discussion between myself and the directors."

"On my return from Europe six months ago I tried to get Mr. Morgan and the directors to accept my resignation, but was unable to do so. That does not look as if I had been forced out. Later I appealed to Mr. Frick and through him have finally succeeded in inducing the directors to accept my resignation. I am as deeply interested in the United States Steel corporation as ever. I am still the largest stockholder and remain as director and member of the executive committee. As a result of the meeting this afternoon my work has been divided. E. H. Gary being elected chairman of the board of directors and an advisory committee to the new president being appointed, consisting of Daniel G. Reid, William Edenborn and Edmund C. Converse. The new president is a close personal friend and has succeeded me in all the offices I have held. My retirement is on account of ill health—nervousness. I have been in bad health for six months or more."

The new president has entered upon his duties and it may be authoritatively stated that with his election the steel corporation has inaugurated a new policy. There will be less centralization of power and increased responsibility in the work of the various committees.

MISS IDA M. SNYDER,

Treasurer of the Brooklyn East End Art Club.

Menstrual irregularities are generally the beginning of a woman's troubles. With the vitality at a low ebb, the blood weakened, the digestion disordered, she goes about pale-faced, hollow-eyed and haggard, a piteous contrast to the blooming health of her former self. But over 1,000,000 women have found health again by taking Wine of Cardui. As a regulator of the menstrual periods Wine of Cardui has never been known to fail. It has seldom failed to restore perfect health, even in the most persistent and aggravated case of weakness.

Miss Ida M. Snyder.

to their health we would have more happy wives, mothers and daughters, and if they would use more intelligence in the matter of medicine, observing results, they would find that the doctors' prescriptions do not perform the many cures they are given credit for.

"In consulting with my druggist he advised McBee's Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and so I took it and have every reason to thank him for a new life opened up to me with restored health, and it only took three months to cure me."

You may secure the same relief as Miss Snyder, if you take Wine of Cardui as she took it. Thedford's Black-Draught is the companion medicine of Wine of Cardui and it is a liver and bowel regulator which assists greatly in effecting a cure. If you take these medicines according to directions, the relief and cure is simple. Some cases are cured quickly and others take longer because the disease has run longer. Remember how Miss Snyder took Wine of Cardui and has health. The same medicines are offered you to-day.

SCHOOLS TO OPEN SEPT. 8.

There will Probably be Some Delay in the Higher Classes as Building will Not be Ready.

The city schools this year will open on Tuesday, September 8. They will not begin on Monday, September 7, for the reason that Labor Day comes on that day and it has been decided not to commence until the day afterwards. Contractor Rowley who is erecting the additions to the Washington and the Lowell school buildings states that he thinks the addition to the Washington building will be ready about October 1, but the opening between the new and the old part of the high school he said will be closed up so that the old rooms can be occupied as before and the work resumed when school opens.

Supt. Hartley is of the opinion that work cannot be resumed in the regular branches when school opens. Of course it must be taken into consideration that last year the board rented Bakkala hall and other places to accommodate the overflow. No arrangement has been made for this extra room this year and consequently it will be impossible to accommodate all before the new additions are finished.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

AUDIENCE PLEASED.

Last night at the Brainerd opera house, for their second performance the Francis Greene company presented to an audience that was large considering the heavy rain. The "Brand of Cain," a play replete with very strong situations and presenting many opportunities for the actors to distinguish themselves.

As usual there were entire new specialties, there being an entire change of program in this department each evening. Miss Witherell presided at the piano and rendered some excellent selections between acts.

The performance was preceded by a street parade of the company's novel band, which created a great deal of music on the street.

As on the opening night, a number of tickets were distributed to everybody in attendance which enables them to secure a seat to witness "A Life For a Life," the play to be presented tonight.

Everybody in the audience receives a coupon which entitles them to a draw on $1000 worth of gold to be given away Saturday night.

"Humpty Dumpty" the very funny pantomime has been decided on for the children's matinee Saturday prices only 10 and 25c.

RAILROAD GOSSIP

The Northern Pacific has not given up its attempt to make an interstate road of its Duluth-Minneapolis line. The supreme court decided that the service at the Twentieth avenue depot must be maintained, it permitted the railroad and warehouse commission to determine what service should be given and to modify its order accordingly. With this in view the railroad company applied for a hearing, and it will be given Aug. 11. It is understood that the members of the commission are determined not to yield the vital point, and while they may modify the order they will insist that the old St. Paul & Duluth charter be respected. That charter provided that the road should always be a Minnesota line, running through trains from the twin cities to the head of the lakes entirely within the state. If this point were surrendered the state would have no control over the rates from Duluth to the twin cities and all of southern Minnesota, as the Great Northern and Omaha both run through Wisconsin.

We furnish your house complete, easy terms.

ASCENT OF MOUNT RAINIER

Dr. Betts and H. M. Sarvant Prove Mountain Still Surmountable.

Dr. W. K. Betts of New Orleans and H. M. Sarvant of Tacoma, Wash., have made a thrilling ascent of Mount Rainier, says the New York Times. Dr. Betts read in newspapers that the mountain had not been ascended for four years on account of great breaks in the ice walls about Gibraltar rock. Old guides had gone to Gibraltar rock for several seasons past only to turn back without reaching the top.

Dr. Betts was determined to disprove the theory that the mountain is insurmountable. Reaching Tacoma a few days ago, he started at once for Paradise valley, on the southern slope. Descending from Pinnacle peak of the Tatoosh range, both men took a perilous slide of half a mile down steep snow fields. After previously carrying food to Camp Muir the climbers started on a Sunday evening to make the ascent. They camped at Muir until daybreak, but the weather was bitterly cold, making sleep impossible. At 3 a. m. they discarded all unnecessary clothing, taking only alpine stocks and cameras, and started.

Reaching the glaciers about Gibraltar, they were compelled to use ropes and to cut 300 steps in the ice with a hatchet in making a zigzag journey up ice slopes and around crevasses. They found that avalanches had carried away a great rocky ledge above Gibraltar on which previous climbers had depended in ascending one of the steepest places. The summit was reached at 11 a. m. They visited three peaks. Investigation showed that there had been no recent volcanic activity, as was supposed, though steam and sulphur fumes still rise in the craters. They reached Paradise valley at 8 o'clock the next night, twenty-five hours after commencing the ascent.

SURROUNDS THE JAIL.

Idaho Mob Threatens to Lynch William Hamilton.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 5.—A Miner special from Lewiston, Ida., says the jail at Azotin is surrounded by 200 or 300 people with the announced intention of lynching William Hamilton, the young rancher who Tuesday confessed to having taken eleven-year-old Mabel Richardson into a thicket and after assaulting her, killed her by beating her brains out with a heavy club.

A contingent is expected momentarily from Anatone, the scene of the crime, and when it arrives an attack, it is said, will be made upon the jail. Excitement is at white heat and Hamilton is reported cowering in his cell in deadly fear.

Special deputies are on guard at the jail, but their number is of little weight against the heavy crowd forming outside. The mob appears to lack a leader.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

AUDIENCE PLEASED.

Last night at the Brainerd opera house, for their second performance the Francis Greene company presented to an audience that was large considering the heavy rain. The "Brand of Cain," a play replete with very strong situations and presenting many opportunities for the actors to distinguish themselves.

As usual there were entire new specialties, there being an entire change of program in this department each evening. Miss Witherell presided at the piano and rendered some excellent selections between acts.

The performance was preceded by a street parade of the company's novel band, which created a great deal of music on the street.

As on the opening night, a number of tickets were distributed to everybody in attendance which enables them to secure a seat to witness "A Life For a Life," the play to be presented tonight.

Everybody in the audience receives a coupon which entitles them to a draw on $10.00 worth of gold to be given away Saturday night.

"Humpty Dumpty" the very funny pantomime has been decided on for the children's matinee Saturday prices only 10 and 25c.

RAILROAD GOSSIP

The Northern Pacific has not given up its attempt to make an interstate road of its Duluth-Minneapolis line. The supreme court decided that the service at the Twentieth avenue depot must be maintained, it permitted the railroad and warehouse commission to determine what service should be given and to modify its order accordingly. With this in view the railroad company applied for a hearing, and it will be given Aug. 11. It is understood that the members of the commission are determined not to yield the vital point, and while they may modify the order they will insist that the old St. Paul & Duluth charter be respected. That charter provided that the road should always be a Minnesota line, running through trains from the twin cities to the head of the lakes entirely within the state. If this point were surrendered the state would have no control over the rates from Duluth to the twin cities and all of southern Minnesota, as the Great Northern and Omaha both run through Wisconsin.

We furnish your house complete, easy terms.

ASCENT OF MOUNT RAINIER

Dr. Betts and R. M. Sarvant Prove Mountain Still Sarnountable.

Dr. W. R. Betts of New Orleans and R. M. Sarvant of Tacoma, Wash., have made a thrilling ascent of Mount Rainier, says the New York Times. Dr. Betts read in newspapers that the mountain had not been ascended for four years on account of great breaks in the ice walls about Gibraltar rock. Old guides had gone to Gibraltar rock for several seasons past only to turn back without reaching the top.

Dr. Betts was determined to disprove the theory that the mountain is insurmountable. Reaching Tacoma a few days ago, he started at once for Paradise valley, on the southern slope. Descending from Pinnacle peak of the Tatoosh range, both men took a perilous slide of half a mile down steep snow fields. After previously carrying food to Camp Muir the climbers started on a Sunday evening to make the ascent. They camped at Muir until daybreak, but the weather was bitterly cold, making sleep impossible. At 3 a. m. they discarded all unnecessary clothing, taking only alpine stocks and cameras, and started.

Reaching the glaciers about Gibraltar, they were compelled to use ropes and to cut 300 steps in the ice with a hatchet in making a zigzag journey up ice slopes and around crevasses. They found that avalanches had carried away a great rocky ledge above Gibraltar on which previous climbers had depended in ascending one of the steepest places. The summit was reached at 11 a. m. They visited three peaks. Investigation showed that there had been no recent volcanic activity, as was supposed, though steam and sulphur fumes still rise in the craters.

They reached Paradise valley at 8 o'clock the next night, twenty-five hours after commencing the ascent.

SURROUNDS THE JAIL.

Idaho Mob Threatens to Lynch William Hamilton.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 5.—A Miner special from Lewiston, Ida., says the jail at Asotin is surrounded by 200 or 300 people with the announced intention of lynching William Hamilton, the young rancher who Tuesday confessed to having taken eleven-year-old Mabel Richardson into a thicket and after assaulting her, killed her by beating her brains out with a heavy club.

A contingent is expected momentarily from Anatone, the scene of the crime, and when it arrives an attack, it is said, will be made upon the jail. Excitement is at white heat and Hamilton is reported cowering in his cell in deadly fear.

Special deputies are on guard at the jail, but their number is of little weight against the heavy crowd forming outside. The mob appears to lack a leader.

THE GLENCOE AND ST. CLOUD TEAMS TIE

Game at Athletic Park Last Night Witnessed by a Large Crowd of Old Time Fans.

WAS NOT SO SWIFT AFTER ALL

Game was Called After the Fifth Inning on Account of Darkness, Score 3 to 3.

St. Cloud and Glencoe met on the local diamond last evening, the game being called at 6:30 o'clock, but unfortunately the elements were against them and the fans who turned out to see the first real exhibition of the national game of the season in Brainerd were disappointed. St. Cloud played her five innings, enough to call it a game, and Glencoe played its half of the sixth inning when the game had to be called on account of darkness.

Wilson was on the slab for St. Cloud and in spots did some clever work but he was rather wild and passed five men to first. His execution, however, was very clever and six men were struck out. Three bad errors were made by St. Cloud but they were entirely excusable on account of the darkness. The clever work of Miner at second was a feature of the game, one or two very clever and clean pickups being credited to him.

Depati was on the slab for Glencoe and St. Cloud succeeded in driving out six hits in the five innings. The teams were tied at the end of the fifth and that is the way the game finally wound up.

It is thought that the sympathy of the crowd was with the Glencoe team, especially as the umpiring seemed to give them a shade the worst of it at almost every turn. Depati was up against hard luck all the time and Umpire Honold seemed not to be able to see when he cut the plate. He had to cut it right in two in the middle.

The game from a spectator's standpoint was a disappointment although there was some brilliant work for a short time. But the tendency for teams to take a slump and kind of hang back just to have the game called for some reason or other is not treating the crowd right that has turned out. Brainerd turned out a good crowd and both teams made money yesterday afternoon, but a little faster playing on both sides would have been appreciated.

The following is the summary of the game:

	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
St. Cloud
Richards 3b	3	0	1	0	0	0

GREAT DAIRY DISPLAY.

The Coming Minnesota State Fair Will Have a Most Interesting Exhibition.

Interest in northwestern buttermaking will draw to the Minnesota State Fair of 1903 a most complete display of dairy apparatus as well as a large amount of butter in competition or the liberal prizes offered by the state fair management. A. W. Trow, of Glenville, is superintendent of the department and is making every effort to have the exhibitions be the best ever seen in the country. Competition is keen and some high scoring is looked for. Manufacturers of dairy apparatus are struggling for the space in the dairy building. It will be crowded with the latest things. This year the fair will open on August 31 and continue until Saturday, Sept. 5.

DECISION RENDERED IN WHITEMAN CASE

Judge McClenahan Hands Down Decision in a Case which has Become Famous.

ALONZO J. WHITEMAN DEFEATED

In the Attempt to Acquire Title to a Valuable Piece of Property in Itasca County.

Judge McClenahan has finally handed down a decision in the famous case of A. J. Dwyer Pine Land company vs. Alonzo J. Whiteman, Julia Nettleton Whiteman, Albert H. Powers, Anthony J. Dwyer, Calumet Land company, also all other persons or parties unknown, claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real estate described in the complaint, finding for the plaintiff company.

The case was heard in chambers before Judge McClenahan about the first of January and in many instances was one of the most important matters that has come before the court in a long time.

The case had as one of its defendants no less a personage than Alonzo J. Whiteman, formerly of Duluth, but now of Dansville, N. Y., where it is said he has taken up the ministry. He returned last winter from New York and it was his first visit to the state in something like ten years, his name just before leaving being perhaps as widely advertised in criminal deeds as any man who ever lived in the northern part of Minnesota. He was a candidate at one time for congress in this district and was a member of the state senate.

The plaintiffs in the complaint alleged that they were owners of certain lands in Itasca county, three quarter sections in all, and that the defendants nor either of them, have any right or title to the same; that said land is vacant and unoccupied; that the plaintiffs are informed that said defendants claim some right and title to the property described in the complaint.

It seems that on December 11, 1890, A. H. Power and A. J. Dwyer were in the real estate business in Minneapolis, doing business under the firm name of Powers & Dwyer. It was alleged that on the above date the said Alonzo J. Whiteman and his wife executed and delivered to the said Powers & Dwyer a deed for the land above referred to, which deed was recorded at the county seat of Itasca county on May 20, 1902. It was further alleged in the complaint that by inadvertence of the person who wrote the deed the name of the grantees were written as "Powers & Dwyer, of Minneapolis," instead of "Albert H. Powers and A. J. Dwyer, copartners as Powers & Dwyer."

The plaintiff company therefore prayed judgment and that the said deed be corrected and reformed by inserting therein the proper words and that the plaintiffs secure other relief as the court may see just and equitable.

The defendants filed an answer in which they deny that the plaintiffs are owners in fee simply of the land and that they never sold the land described by said plaintiffs. The defendants further answered the complaint by way of a counter claim alleging that the plaintiffs never owned the land in reality, but that a loan was made to said defendant, A. J. Whiteman, and the warranty deed was simply given in lieu of a mortgage. The defendant further claimed that the plaintiffs claimed to have a proper estimate of the timber on the land, but afterwards it was found that there was much more timber there than was given credit for.

Powers & Dwyer afterward transferred the deed to the A. J. Dwyer Pine Land Co., a firm now doing business in Minneapolis, and plaintiffs in this suit.

It seems that the whole proceeding is hinged on the fact that there is now supposed to be some valuable ore deposits on this land. There is not much doubt but that the A. J. Dwyer Pine Land Co., bought the land in good faith, but there was a technicality which unless it was cleared up would probably result in the property reverting back to Whiteman again.

As conclusions of law Judge McClenahan decides that the plaintiffs are entitled to judgment; that they are owner in fee simple of all the lands described in the complaint; that the defendant A. J. Whiteman has no right, title interest or estate therein, nor in any part thereof, nor has he had any such right, title, interest or estate since December 11, 1890.

Inning on Account of Darkness, Score 3 to 3.

St. Cloud and Glencoe met on the local diamond last evening, the game being called at 6:30 o'clock, but unfortunately the elements were against them and the fans who turned out to see the first real exhibition of the national game of the season in Brainerd were disappointed. St. Cloud played her five innings, enough to call it a game, and Glencoe played its half of the sixth inning when the game had to be called on account of darkness.

Wilson was on the slab for St. Cloud and in spots did some clever work but he was rather wild and passed five men to first. His execution, however, was very clever and six men were struck out. Three bad errors were made by St. Cloud but they were entirely excusable on account of the darkness. The clever work of Miner at second was a feature of the game, one or two very clever and clean pickups being credited to him.

Depati was on the slab for Glencoe and St. Cloud succeeded in driving out six hits in the five innings. The teams were tied at the end of the fifth and that is the way the game finally wound up.

It is thought that the sympathy of the crowd was with the Glencoe team, especially as the umpiring seemed to give them a shade the worst of it at almost every turn. Depati was up against hard luck all the time and Umpire Honold seemed not to be able to see when he cut the plate. He had to cut it right in two in the middle.

The game from a spectator's standpoint was a disappointment although there was some brilliant work for a short time. But the tendency for teams to take a slump and kind of hang back just to have the game called for some reason or other is not treating the crowd right that has turned out. Brainerd turned out a good crowd and both teams

made money yesterday afternoon, but a little faster playing on both sides would have been appreciated.

The following is the summary of the game:

St. Cloud	AB	R	H	PO	A	E

GREAT DAIRY DISPLAY.

The Coming Minnesota State Fair Will Have a Most Interesting Exhibition.

Interest in northwestern buttermaking will draw to the Minnesota State Fair of 1903 a most complete display of dairy apparatus as well as a large amount of butter in competition or the liberal prizes offered by the state fair management. A. W. Trow, of Glenville, is superintendent of the department and is making every effort to have the exhibitions be the best ever seen in the country. Competition is keen and some high scoring is looked for. Manufacturers of dairy apparatus are struggling for the space in the dairy building. It will be crowded with the latest things. This year the fair will open on August 31 and continue until Saturday, Sept. 5.

DECISION RENDERED IN WHITEMAN CASE

Judge McClenahan Hands Down Decision in a Case which has Become Famous.

In the Attempt to Acquire Title to a Valuable Piece of Property in Itasca County.

Judge McClenahan has finally handed down a decision in the famous case of A. J. Dwyer Pine Land company vs. Alonzo J. Whiteman, Julia Nettleton Whiteman, Albert H. Powers, Anthony J. Dwyer, Calumet Land company, also all other persons or parties unknown, claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real estate described in the complaint, finding for the plaintiff company.

The case was heard in chambers before Judge McClenahan about the first of January and in many instances was one of the most important matters that has come before the court in a long time.

The case had as one of its defendants no less a personage than Alonzo J. Whiteman, formerly of Duluth, but now of Dansville, N. Y., where it is said he has taken up the ministry. He returned last winter from New York and it was his first visit to the state in something like ten years, his name just before leaving being perhaps as widely advertised in criminal deeds as any man who ever lived in the northern part of Minnesota. He was a candidate at one time for congress in this district and was a member of the state senate.

The plaintiffs in the complaint alleged that they were owners of certain lands in Itasca county, three quarter sections in all, and that the defendants nor either of them, have any right or title to the same; that said land is vacant and unoccupied; that the plaintiffs are informed that said defendants claim some right and title to the property described in the complaint.

It seems that on December 11, 1890, A. H. Power and A. J. Dwyer were in the real estate business in Minneapolis, doing business under the firm name of Powers & Dwyer. It was alleged that on the above date the said Alonzo J. Whiteman and his wife executed and delivered to the said Powers & Dwyer a deed for the land above referred to, which deed was recorded at the county seat of Itasca county on May 20, 1902. It was further alleged in the complaint that by inadvertence of the person who wrote the deed the name of the grantees were written as "Powers & Dwyer, of Minneapolis," instead of "Albert H. Powers and A. J. Dwyer, copartners as Powers & Dwyer."

The plaintiff company therefore prayed judgment and that the said deed be corrected and reformed by inserting therein the proper words and that the plaintiffs secure other relief as the court may see just and equitable.

The defendants filed an answer in which they deny that the plaintiffs are owners in fee simply of the land and that they never sold the land described by said plaintiffs. The defendants further answered the complaint by way of a counter claim alleging that the plaintiffs never owned the land in reality, but that a loan was made to said defendant, A. J. Whiteman, and the warranty deed was simply given in lieu of a mortgage. The defendant further claimed that the plaintiffs claimed to have a proper estimate of the timber on the land, but afterwards it was found that there was much more timber there than was given credit for.

Powers & Dwyer afterward transferred the deed to the A. J. Dwyer Pine Land Co., a firm now doing business in Minneapolis, and plaintiffs in this suit.

It seems that the whole proceeding is hinged on the fact that there is now supposed to be some valuable ore deposits on this land. There is not much doubt but that the A. J. Dwyer Pine Land Co., bought the land in good faith, but there was a technicality which unless it was cleared up would probably result in the property reverting back to Whiteman again.

As conclusions of law Judge McClenahan decides that the plaintiffs are entitled to judgment; that they are owner in fee simple of all the lands described in the complaint; that the defendant A. J. Whiteman has no right, title interest or estate therein, nor in any part thereof, nor has he had any such right, title, interest or estate since December 11, 1890.

Brainerd Man Married.

The correspondent of the Little Falls Transcript at Fort Ripley, sends to that paper the following society item:

"At the home of the bride's parents, Fort Ripley, Minn., Aug. 1, George Northrup of Brainerd and Miss Lydie Nichols of Ft. Ripley were married by Rev. J. S. Cornice.

"Mr. Northrup has resided at Brainerd with his sister, Mrs. John Redding, and is known as a very prosperous man and is highly esteemed by all who know him. We note with much pleasure this important act that we trust will make him a happy husband. The bride, a Minnesota girl is loved by all who know her and in every way worthy for the prize she has won. A host of friends extend their hearty congratulations to the young couple."

REDUCING BIG FARMS.

How Great Tracts in the Northwest Are Being Broken Up.

SETTLERS PREPARING HOMES.

William E. Curtis Writes of the Changes in Minnesota and the Dakotas—Diversified Farming Increasing in Profitableness and Popularity—Nature of Crops Raised
in Arid Sections.

The bonanza farms of Minnesota and North Dakota, which for many years
were the wonder of the world, where 20,000, 25,000, 30,000 and even 40,000 undivided acres were planted to being under the same management, are being broken up and reduced in size,
writes William E. Curtis from St. Paul to the Chicago Record-Herald. The reasons therefor are too many and too
complicated to be discussed in a newspaper letter, as they vary in almost every case. There are advantages as well as disadvantages in "bonanza farming," but as a rule few men are capable of handling more than 5,000 or 6,000 acres. One reason worth mentioning, however, is that after the
financial depression of 1893 wheat
went down and remained down, while
land went up and remained up in price,
and several of the owners of the big
farms "realized" upon their property,
selling out large tracts to newcomers.

It is also true that diversified farming is becoming more and more profitable and popular in North Dakota and Minnesota, where poultry raising, dairying and the cultivation of vegetables
for the city markets is being gradually adopted by the farmers. Minnesota butter has been fortunate in taking
high prizes in several interstate competitions, which has advertised it to the world and stimulated prices. Flax and
corn are also being raised to a considerable extent, and barley, oats and other grains are now considered a necessary
part of a farmer's crop, the proportions
being about the same as in other sections of the country.

"Freak farming" is now obsolete in the northwest. In North Dakota particularly flax has been gradually increasing its acreage and production
and is especially advantageous for
what is called "a breaking crop"—that
is, the first crop on newly broken farms—because it more nearly pays expenses than any other. The corn acreage is also constantly increasing in North Dakota, and, although the fact
has long been disputed, there is no
trouble in raising good corn and large crops of it on that dry soil. In Montana clover and alfalfa are receiving a great deal of attention. A large area of fine clover is now being raised in
the Gallatin and Bitter Root valleys,
and a heavy acreage of alfalfa is now
to be found in the Yellowstone valley.
These valleys, with that of Clark's fork and the Tongue river, are especially adapted to heavy forage crops,
and the so-called arid section of Montana, where irrigation is impossible, is being slowly redeemed. In a recent interview Frank W. Hall, assistant to the director of the state experiment station, said that good crops could be raised in all or nearly every part of
the arid section, provided care is taken in the selection of the grain or vegetables.

"Excellent wheat is being raised in the arid district," said Mr. Hall, "and a number of farmers are growing fine
crops of alfalfa and red clover where irrigation is impossible and where the land was believed to be a hopeless desert. Only one crop of forage plants
can be raised, however, without irrigation instead of two and often three,
as in the well watered regions. It is expected that the result of our experiments will create an active demand for land which has been begging till now,
and steps are being taken to organize
a colony."

A WATERMELON PALACE.

Novel Feature of a Carnival For Oaktown, Ind.

One of the chief events that will occur in Knox county, Ind., this summer
will be the watermelon carnival that
will soon be held in Oaktown, Ind., says
the Chicago Inter Ocean. According to the arrangements, the affair will be
on a gorgeous scale and will be a novelty. It is planned to build a palace of watermelons and to arrange the melons
in many different styles of architecture.
As Oaktown is in the heart of the mel-
on district it is believed the carnival
will be a most interesting sight.

The crop this year will be the largest
ever known, judging by present conditions. More than 1,000 acres above last year's acreage have been planted, and
preparations are making to handle hundreds of cars. Last year entire melon trains left Oaktown, and hundreds of melons were wasted because the railroad company was unable to supply the demand for cars. There was no bank
in Oaktown last year, but one was established last winter for the purpose of
assisting the shippers in their business
transactions.

NOTED ARMLESS HORSEMAN

How W. B. Denny Rode a Spirited
Animal Despite Loss of Arms.

The late W. B. Denny, known far
and wide as the "Armless Horseman,"
long a resident of Washington, lost his arms by the premature discharge of a salute over the body of General George
H. Thomas, says the New York Times.
For many years he had a position in the war department, but a year ago he resigned to give his whole time to his horses. He was a cavalryman during the war and always had a great fondness for horses. He had owned and driven some of the finest singles and
teams seen in Washington.

His courage and skill with mettlesome, highly bred animals was remarkable. He was a familiar figure
on the streets of the capital and often drove and won on the race tracks. The District and adjoining states, his driving was marvelous, in that he seemed to accomplish his conquest of
the worst horse by talking to him and so gaining his confidence. When he undertook to drive a strange and spirited team or to break a young horse he first saw that every strap and buckle
was at its proper place; then he placed
one rein over his right shoulder and
the other beneath his left arm, the two
reins being made fast with a strong buckle turned under so that it was impossible to slip or come loose. With the stub of his arms he was able to guide the animals. The weight of his body against the reins brought the
horses to a slow up if they got fast and fretful. Twisting his shoulders and body from side to side, seesawing the bits in the mouths until the horses
were willing to quiet down and trot gently along, he was able to manage
them.

Last spring some of the owners of fast steppers had a number of races at Brightwood Driving park, Mr. Denny's
late home, and he had a team entered in a trotting race. The young man who was to drive showed in the line up
that Mr. Denny's team had a bad chance to win. Mr. Denny became irritated at the stupid horsemanship
and, ordering the young fellow out of
the sulky, jumped in, adjusted the
reins in a twinkling and succeeded in getting a good position, winning the race easily. Many of the best horsemen in the District and a number from elsewhere were present, and all declared that they had never witnessed
such a fine exhibition on any track.

RUSSIA'S NEW CITY.

M. M. Langhorne Believes Dalny Has
an Unlimited Future.

"The Building of Dalny" is the subject of a special article by Mr. M. M.
Langhorne, commercial agent of the United States, recently issued by the department of commerce and labor as
an advance sheet of the consular reports, says the New York Herald.

Mr. Langhorne tells the story of the enterprise displayed by the Russian government in building a great commercial city on the eastern shore of the Liaotung peninsula, about twenty miles
from Port Arthur and within territory
leased by the Chinese government to Russia on March 27, 1898.

Commanding a situation equal to that
of Port Arthur, Dalny is believed by Mr. Langhorne to have an unlimited future, since the Russian lease includes
a harbor that is being converted into one of the best in the world. The city is the southern terminus of the Chinese Eastern railway and the headquarters of the company. In fact, the city is being constructed by the Chinese Eastern Railway company under the direction of the Russian minister of finance,
M. Witte.

Dalny is divided into three parts—the
administration city, the European and
commercial city and the Chinese city.
The administration city borders on the harbor and bay and is 108 acres in extent. All space in that quarter is reserved for the use of the Chinese Eastern Railway company and its officials.
One of the features giving solidity to
the industrial future of Dalny is the fact that it manufactures nearly everything in the way of materials used in building.

The harbor is the scene of the greatest activity at present. The small harbor has been dredged to a depth of
eighteen feet, and the pier for coast
steamers, which has been in use for over a year, is nearly completed and has a railroad to its end. Trains are now in operation from St. Petersburg
and Moscow to Dalny.

Japan furnishes the bulk of the coal
imported, Russia the cement and kerosene, Korea and the United States the
timber and the United States the flour.
Provisions are obtained principally
from Shanghai and other trade centers
of the east.

Won $2,500 For a Cake Walk.

The New York Herald's European
edition publishes the following from its London correspondent: "The walking
craze, which was believed to have died
out, has reappeared in clubland at London. For a wager of $2,500 a rather well known gentleman of athletic propensities recently undertook to perform
a cake walk from the Trocadero restaurant to Hyde Park corner and back
between 11 o'clock in the morning and 6 o'clock in the evening. The appearance of a well dressed man alternately
walking with his knees on a level with
his chest and hopping on one foot, followed by hansom cabs containing umpires and backers, caused considerable amusement in the West End. The performer won his $2,500.

British Demand For a Weed.

A man in Maine recently shipped to London 200 barrels of "cattails," the well known marsh weed. The weed seems to have little commercial value
in the United States, but the demand for it is increasing in England. The downy boss of the head is used for filling sofa pillows and cushions.

WANTED FOR EXECUTION.

Chinese Government Requests Extradition of an Editor and Staff.

Peking, Aug. 5.—The Chinese government has addressed a note directly to the foreign ministers requesting
the extradition of the editor and staff
of the Supao, the Chinese reform organization at Shanghai, who are charged with seditious writings, thus reinforcing the demand of the Shanghai officials upon the consuls. The demands state that the prisoners are wanted for execution. A trial is not mentioned and it is therefore inferred
that the authorities propose to dispose with such a formality.

Public opinion continues intense on
this affair and all the newspapers published at the treaty ports exhort the ministers to refuse the demands. The supporters of the dowager empress
have adopted an apologetic tone and assert that the severity of the whipping administered to Shen Chien, the
reformist journalist who was executed
at Peking July 31, has been exaggerated
and that he was strangled before he had suffered greatly. All are forced to admit, however, that the dowager empress ordered Chien to be beaten
to death because she considered strangling to be too mild a punishment.

WAREHOUSE ROBBED.

Safe at Ponce, P. R., Forced and $14,000
Stolen From It.

San Juan, P. R., Aug. 5.—The warehouse of Blasini Bros., at Ponce, was
set on fire and robbed Monday night.
The safe was forced and $14,000
stolen from it.

Later the Blasini Bros. were arrested
at Ponce for alleged complicity in the affair. They are now under bonds pending the examination. The case is growing sensational.

BRIDGE DYNAMITED.

Renewal of Bomb-Throwing Outrages Feared in Salonica.

Salonica, European Turkey, Aug. 5.
—A railroad bridge at Ekishon, near Monastir, which is eighty-seven miles northwest of here, and a railway storehouse at Bonitza have been dynamited. The telegraph line between Salonica and Monastir has been cut.
The greatest uneasiness exists here in the highest and best informed circles and a renewal of the bomb-throwing outrages is apprehended.

IN A FIT OF JEALOUS RAGE.

Gypsy Kills His Wife and Wounds Her Companion.

Philadelphia, Aug. 4.—In a fit of jealous rage, "Lou" Heine, a gypsy,
last night shot and killed his wife in
a tent at Woodside Park, a pleasure
resort. After killing the woman,
Heine probably fatally shot George
Roberts, who was with the woman,
knocked down several bystanders and escaped. Mrs. Heine was a fortune
teller and her husband formerly acted
as her manager. The pair quarreled
and the husband deserted her. Mrs.
Heine then engaged Roberts to take
her husband's place.

REDUCING BIG FARMS.

How Great Tracts in the North-
west Are Being Broken Up.

SETTLERS PREPARING HOMES.

William E. Curtis Writes of the Changes in Minnesota and the
Dakotas—Diversified Farming Increasing in Profitableness and Popularity—Nature of Crops Raised
in Arid Sections.

The bonanza farms of Minnesota and
North Dakota, which for many years
were the wonder of the world, where 20,000, 25,000, 30,000 and even 40,000
undivided acres were planted to wheat
under the same management, are being broken up and reduced in size,
writes William E. Curtis from St. Paul
to the Chicago Record-Herald. The
reasons therefor are too many and too
complicated to be discussed in a newspaper letter, as they vary in almost every case. There are advantages as
well as disadvantages in "bonanza
farming," but as a rule few men are capable of handling more than 5,000 or 6,000 acres. One reason worth mentioning, however, is that after the
financial depression of 1893 wheat
went down and remained down, while
land went up and remained up in price,
and several of the owners of the big
farms "realized" upon their property,
selling out large tracts to newcomers.

It is also true that diversified farming is becoming more and more profitable and popular in North Dakota and Minnesota, where poultry raising, dair-
ying and the cultivation of vegetables
for the city markets is being gradually
adopted by the farmers. Minnesota
butter has been fortunate in taking
high prizes in several interstate com-
petitions, which has advertised it to the world and stimulated prices. Flax and
corn are also being raised to a considerable extent, and barley, oats and other
grains are now considered a necessary
part of a farmer's crop, the proportions
being about the same as in other sections of the country.

"Freak farming" is now obsolete in the northwest. In North Dakota particularly flax has been gradually increasing its acreage and production
and is especially advantageous for
what is called "a breaking crop"—that
is, the first crop on newly broken
farms—because it more nearly pays
expenses than any other. The corn
acreage is also constantly increasing in North Dakota, and, although the fact
has long been disputed, there is no
trouble in raising good corn and large
crops of it on that dry soil. In Montana clover and alfalfa are receiving a great deal of attention. A large area
of fine clover is now being raised in
the Gallatin and Bitter Root valleys,
and a heavy acreage of alfalfa is now
to be found in the Yellowstone valley.
These valleys, with that of Clark's
fork and the Tongue river, are especially adapted to heavy forage crops,
and the so called arid section of Montana, where irrigation is impossible, is
being slowly redeemed. In a recent interview Frank W. Hall, assistant to
the director of the state experiment
station, said that good crops could be
raised in all or nearly every part of
the arid section, provided care is taken in the selection of the grain or vegetables.

"Excellent wheat is being raised in
the arid district," said Mr. Hall, "and
a number of farmers are growing fine
crops of alfalfa and red clover where
irrigation is impossible and where the
land was believed to be a hopeless desert. Only one crop of forage plants
can be raised, however, without irrigation instead of two and often three,
as in the well watered regions. It is expected that the result of our experiments will create an active demand for
land which has gone begging till now,
and steps are being taken to organize
a colony."

Novel Feature of a Carnival for Oaktown, Ind.

One of the chief events that will occur in Knox county, Ind., this summer
will be the watermelon carnival that
will soon be held in Oaktown, Ind., says
the Chicago Inter Ocean. According
to the arrangements, the affair will be
on a gorgeous scale and will be a novelty. It is planned to build a palace of watermelons and to arrange the melons
in many different styles of architecture.
As Oaktown is in the heart of the mel-
on district it is believed the carnival
will be a most interesting sight.

The crop this year will be the largest
ever known, judging by present conditions. More than 1,000 acres above last year's acreage have been planted, and
preparations are making to handle hun-
trains left Oaktown, and hundreds of
melons were wasted because the rail-
road company was unable to supply the
demand for cars. There was no bank
in Oaktown last year, but one was established last winter for the purpose of
assisting the shippers in their business
transactions.

Largest Chemical Factory.
The largest factory of chemicals in the world is said to be the aniline and soda establishment of Baden. The works employ 148 scientific chemists, 75 technical engineers, 305 clerks and more than 6,000 workmen.

A new literary organization has been instituted in Chicago under the name of "A Bunch of Onions."

How W. B. Denny Rode a Spirited
Animal Despite Lack of Arms.

The late W. B. Denny, known far
and wide as the "Armless Horseman,"
long a resident of Washington, lost his
arms by the premature discharge of a
salute over the body of General George
H. Thomas, says the New York Times.
For many years he had a position in
the war department, but a year ago he
resigned to give his whole time to his
horses. He was a cavalryman during
the war and always had a great fondness for horses. He had owned and
driven some of the finest singles and
teams seen in Washington.

His courage and skill with mettlesome, highly bred animals was remarkable. He was a familiar figure
on the streets of the capital and often drove and won on the race tracks of the District and adjoining states. His driving was marvelous, in that he
seemed to accomplish his conquest of
the worst horse by talking to him and
so gaining his confidence. When he undertook to drive a strange and spirited team or to break a young horse he
first saw that every strap and buckle
was at its proper place; then he placed
one rein over his right shoulder and
the other beneath his left arm, the two
reins being made fast with a strong
buckle turned under so that it was impossible to slip or come loose. With
the stub of his arms he was able to guide the animals. The weight of his body against the reins brought the
horses to a slow up if they got fast and fretful. Twisting his shoulders and body from side to side, seasawing the
bits in the mouths until the horses
were willing to quiet down and trot
them.

Last spring some of the owners of
fast steppers had a number of races at Brightwood Driving park, Mr. Denny's
late home, and he had a team entered
in a trotting race. The young man who was to drive showed in the line up
that Mr. Denny's team had a bad chance to win. Mr. Denny became irritated at the stupid horsemanship
and, ordering the young fellow out of
the sulky, jumped in, adjusted the
reins in a twinkling and succeeded in
getting a good position, winning the race easily. Many of the best horse-
men in the District and a number from
elsewhere were present, and all declared that they had never witnessed
such a fine exhibition on any track.

RUSSIA'S NEW CITY.

M. M. Langhorne Believes Dalny Has
an Unlimited Future.

"The Building of Dalny" is the subject of a special article by Mr. M. M.
Langhorne, commercial agent of the United States, recently issued by the
department of commerce and labor as
an advance sheet of the consular reports, says the New York Herald.

Mr. Langhorne tells the story of the enterprise displayed by the Russian government in building a great commercial city on the eastern shore of the Liaotung peninsula, about twenty miles
from Port Arthur and within territory
leased by the Chinese government to Russia on March 27, 1898.

Commanding a situation equal to that
of Port Arthur, Dalny is believed by
Mr. Langhorne to have an unlimited
future, since the Russian lease includes
a harbor that is being converted into
one of the best in the world. The city
is the southern terminus of the Chinese Eastern railway and the headquarters
of the company. In fact, the city is being constructed by the Chinese Eastern Railway company under the direction of the Russian minister of finance,
M. Witte.

administration city, the European and
commercial city and the Chinese city.
The administration city borders on the
harbor and bay and is 108 acres in extent. All space in that quarter is reserved for the use of the Chinese Eastern Railway company and its officials.
One of the features giving solidity to
the industrial future of Dalny is the
fact that it manufactures nearly every-
thing in the way of materials used in
building.

The harbor is the scene of the greatest activity at present. The small harbor has been dredged to a depth of
eighteen feet, and the pier for coast
steamers, which has been in use for
over a year, is nearly completed and
has a railroad to its end. Trains are now in operation from St. Petersburg
and Moscow to Dalny.

Japan furnishes the bulk of the coal
imported, Russia the cement and kero-
sene, Korea and the United States the
timber and the United States the flour.
Provisions are obtained principally
from Shanghai and other trade centers
of the east.

Won $2,500 For a Cake Walk.

The New York Herald's European
edition publishes the following from its London correspondent: "The walking
craze, which was believed to have died
out, has reappeared in clubland at London. For a wager of $2,500 a rather
well known gentleman of athletic prop-
ensities recently undertook to perform
a cake walk from the Trocadero restaurant to Hyde Park corner and back
between 11 o'clock in the morning and 6 o'clock in the evening. The appearance of a well dressed man alternately
walking with his knees on a level with
his chest and hopping on one foot, followed by hansom cabs containing unlucky and backers, caused considerable amusement in the West End. The per-
former won his $2,500."

British Demand For a Weed.

A man in Maine recently shipped to London 200 barrels of "cattails," the
well known marsh weed. The weed
seems to have little commercial value
in the United States, but the demand
for it is increasing in England. The downy floss of the head is used for filling sofa pillows and cushions.

Chinese Government Requests Extradition of an Editor and Staff.

Peking, Aug. 5.—The Chinese government has addressed a note directly to the foreign ministers requesting
the extradition of the editor and staff
of the Supao, the Chinese reform organization at Shanghai, who are
charged with seditious writings, thus
reinforcing the demand of the Shanghai officials upon the consuls. The demand states that the prisoners are wanted for execution. A trial is not
mentioned and it is therefore inferred
that the authorities propose to dispose with such a formality.

Public opinion continues intense on
this affair and all the newspapers published at the treaty ports exhort the
ministers to refuse the demands. The
supporters of the dowager empress
have adopted an apologetic tone and
assert that the severity of the whip-
ping administered to Shen Chien, the
reformist journalist who was executed
at Peking July 31, has been exaggerated
and that he was strangled before he had suffered greatly. All are forced to admit, however, that the dowager
empress ordered Chien to be beaten
to death because she considered
ment.

WAREHOUSE ROBBED.

Safe at Ponce, P. R., Forced and $14,000
Stolen From It.

San Juan, P. R., Aug. 5.—The warehouse of Blasini Bros., at Ponce, was
set on fire and robbed Monday night.
The safe was forced and $14,000
stolen from it.

Later the Blasini Bros. were arrested
at Ponce for alleged complicity in the
affair. They are now under bonds
pending the examination. The case is growing sensational.

ited. The telegraph line between
Salonica and Monastir has been cut.
The greatest uneasiness exists here in

IN A FIT OF JEALOUS RAGE.

Gypsy Kills His Wife and Wounds Her
Companion.

Philadelphia, Aug. 4.—In a fit of
jealous rage, "Lou" Heine, a gypsy,
last night shot and killed his wife in
a tent at Woodside Park, a pleasure
resort. After killing the woman,
Heine probably fatally shot George
Roberts, who was with the woman,
knocked down several bystanders and
escaped. Mrs. Heine was a fortune
teller and her husband formerly acted
as her manager. The pair quarreled
and the husband deserted her. Mrs.
Heine then engaged Roberts to take
her husband's place.

OCCASION DISQUIETUDE.

Official Circles Agitated Over Excesses of Turkish Troops.

Vienna, Aug. 4.—The continued excesses of the Turkish troops in Macedonia occasion much disquietude in official circles. It is reported that the Austrian, Russian and German embassies at Constantinople have made fresh representations on the subject to the grand vizier.
